Global Citizenship eLearning modules

The International Health Co-ordinating Centre (IHCC), WHO Collaborating Centre on 'Investment for Health and wellbeing', Public Health Wales is launching a new Global Citizenship e-learning resource aimed at the NHS in Wales. This free online learning platform is aimed at health professionals in Wales and for anyone in the NHS interested in learning more about Global Citizenship (GC), what it is and understanding other health professionals experiences and perspectives and how they can be more of a global citizen.

The resource has been created to encourage Global Citizenship development and will enable NHS staff to:

- Learn about why there are inequalities in Wales and the world and their impact on health
- Take part in discussions on international health and development and other themes and topics
- Question viewpoints and perspectives
- Challenge stereotypes
- Learn about the social, economic, environmental, cultural and political impact of globalisation, especially on health and the NHS
- Explore their own values and how they impact on others
- Listen to, understand and respect different views
- Be reflective and develop critical thinking skills
- Understand the different ways of achieving global poverty reduction
- Develop and support their personal and professional development

Split into six modules, with focus on aid and development, rights based health, globalisation, peace and conflict and climate change, this resource is easy to access, easy to use and will be invaluable to all health professionals:
